

Shelterbelt & Windbreak Planting Recommendations

The Conservation Seedling Nursery

This list contains species we produce that are suitable for shelterbelts and windbreaks.

These species have a good, moderate or high drought tolerance.

For more information about each species visit our catalog and see other resources, here.

Or visit, <https://dnrc.mt.gov/Forestry/Conservation-Nursery/resources-catalog>

Shrubs	Trees	Trees
Deciduous <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Buffaloberry</li> <li>• Caragana</li> <li>• Eastern Red Cedar</li> <li>• Golden Currant</li> <li>• Lilac</li> <li>• Silverberry</li> <li>• Skunk sumac</li> <li>• Snowberry</li> <li>• Woods' Rose</li> </ul> Evergreen <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Rocky Mtn. Juniper</li> </ul>	Evergreen <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Austrian Pine</li> <li>• Black Hills Spruce</li> <li>• Lodgepole Pine</li> <li>• Ponderosa Pine</li> <li>• Scotch Pine</li> </ul>	Deciduous <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• American Plum</li> <li>• Amur Maple</li> <li>• Aspen</li> <li>• Black Cherry</li> <li>• Chokecherry</li> <li>• Crabapple</li> <li>• Green Ash</li> <li>• Honey Locust</li> <li>• Poplar</li> <li>• Serviceberry</li> </ul>